MODERN LANGUAGES ADMISSIONS TESTS

Wednesday, 4 November 2015

INSTRUCTIONS TO CANDIDATES

This booklet contains the following Modern Languages, Linguistics, Language Aptitude and Philosophy and Modern Languages tests: Please tick which test(s) you are sitting.

- |   |              |    |                              |
|---|--------------|----|------------------------------|
| 1 | Czech        | 7  | Russian                      |
| 2 | French       | 8  | Spanish                      |
| 3 | German       | 9  | Linguistics                  |
| 4 | Italian      | 10 | Language Aptitude Test (LAT) |
| 5 | Modern Greek | 11 | Philosophy                   |
| 6 | Portuguese   |    |                              |

Time allowed

You have 30 minutes per test. Please note, the Philosophy test is a 1 hour test.

If you need to take two tests, you should complete them in the order in which they appear in the booklet (the same order as they are listed above). No courses require more than two tests.

Your supervisor will notify you when you should begin the second test.

Question papers

The language test papers are each two pages long. The Linguistics test is three pages long and the Language Aptitude Test (LAT) is two pages long. The Philosophy test is two pages long.

After you have finished, the whole booklet should be returned. Do not attempt any tests not required for your course; no extra credit can be gained.

If you are unsure of which test(s) you should be taking, your supervisor can advise what is required for your chosen course.

You can use the blank inside front and back covers or separate paper for rough workings or notes, but only answers in the spaces in the papers will be marked.

No dictionaries of any kind are permitted.

In the box at the top of each test paper, you should fill in (1) your UCAS Personal ID, (2) your name, (3) the Oxford college you chose or were allocated, and (4) your date of birth. Your supervisor will also have a record of your UCAS Personal ID if you do not have it.

Single Modern Language (other than French and German)

Psychology & Linguistics

Philosophy & Linguistics

Make an attempt to answer all the questions. Do not worry if you find you have little to say about some of the questions, or if you do not have technical terms for the features you wish to describe. While there are "right" and "wrong" answers (or several equally good answers), how you go about finding answers is as relevant to us as producing an answer which is completely correct.

Write your answers in the space provided on the paper. Please take care to write clearly. If you wish to write your notes on the paper, there is no need to cross them out. Total marks: 100.

Question 1. Chinese Tone [Total value: 33 marks]

The following questions are based on an invented language called Plonk. Plonk differs from English in not having definite or indefinite articles (the and a), and in not differentiating simple and progressive tenses (is going = goes, was leaving = left); it does, however, have fixed word order. Try to work out the meaning of the sentences, individual words, and their components by reading them carefully and considering the differences between similar forms. The exercises are built up gradually, so it is best to do them in order. [Total value for the test: 50 marks]

Answer PART A and ONE QUESTION ONLY FROM PART B.

Spend half an hour on each and do as much as you can within that time.

PART A

1. Read the following passage carefully, and then answer questions (a) and (b) below.

We often try to think as objectively as possible about the world around us, and to express ourselves accordingly. Whether we are musing in general terms about what kind of world it is, or assessing a particular situation, we try to ensure that what we think and what we say are not coloured by our own feelings, concerns, or special involvement with our subject matter. Such detachment is even sometimes required of us, for example if we are compiling an official report or giving evidence in a court of law. Someone might deliberately refrain from describing an event as amusing, say, because such a description would be an expression of his or her own sense of humour. Science acts as a paradigm here. What a scientific theory is supposed to be is, precisely, a completely objective account of what the world is like and how it works. This is why many people regard science with a kind of reverence. They think that it contains pure, unadulterated truth.

(ADRIAN MOORE)

- a) State in your own words the thought of the passage.
- b) EITHER: Why is it that detachment is ‘sometimes required of us’?

OR: Assess the claim that science contains ‘pure, unadulterated truth’.

PART B – Answer EITHER Question 2 OR Question 3 OR Question 4

2. If we know a language only through written examples (because all of its speakers are dead, and there are no audio recordings available), what precisely have we lost? Does it matter?
3. Discuss the relationship between the following three concepts: enthusiasm, enjoyment, pleasure.
4. Are there circumstances under which it could be appropriate that some living person accused of a serious crime does not stand trial?
